

Comprehensive HR Knowledge Pack (2025–2035)

Machine-Readable · MBA-Level · RAG-Optimized · Chicago Citations

SECTION 1 — Modern Workforce Psychology & Sociology (2025)

- Flexibility, autonomy, and psychological safety define expectations.
- Hybrid work normalized; 70%+ prefer some remote schedule.
- Motivation: meaningful impact, transparent leadership, mental-health support.
- Behavior trends: distributed leadership, async-first communication.

SECTION 2 — Employment Structures

Salary: Fixed annual pay; exempt; ownership-driven expectations.

Hourly: Hourly wages; overtime eligible; schedule adherence critical.

Commission: Revenue-based pay; CRM accuracy and sales pipeline discipline required.

Union: Governed by CBAs; explicit expectation alignment.

Non-Union: Policy-driven; expectations vary.

SECTION 3 — Organizational Behavior Frameworks

- Psychological contract shifts toward fairness, growth, purpose.
- Skill mobility and flattened hierarchies.
- Leadership expectations: clarity, empathy, hybrid support.

SECTION 4 — Interview Playbook (External/Internal)

External candidate questions: behavioral, technical, situational, values.

Internal candidates: promotability, performance history, readiness for scope expansion.

SECTION 5 — Reviews, Promotions & Merit Cycles

- Competency models replacing generic rating systems.
- Promotions require long-term demonstration of next-level capabilities.
- Merit tied to KPIs, team outcomes, market benchmarks.

SECTION 6 — Compensation & Market Value (2025)

- Salary benchmarking via BLS, Glassdoor, LinkedIn.
- Geographic differentials shrinking.
- Pay transparency reshaping negotiation dynamics.

SECTION 7 — HR Technology & AI Modernization

- Skills-first hiring replacing degree-first approach.
- ATS automation, AI-screening, bias-mitigation workflows.
- Agentic HR systems emerging.

SECTION 8 — Hiring History (1930–2025)

- 1930s–50s: informal resumes, handshake hiring.
- 60s–80s: HR formalization, structured interviewing.
- 90s–10s: job boards, digital applications, LinkedIn.

- 2020s: hybrid revolution, AI-enabled hiring.

SECTION 9 — 2026–2035 Workforce Projections

- AI-native jobs emerge.
- Hiring cycle compression: weeks → hours.
- Network-based org structures.
- Skills taxonomies become cross-industry standards.

SECTION 10 — Enterprise Interview Question Library

Leadership: conflict resolution, strategic pivots.

Execution: timeline compression, delivery excellence.

Culture: remote trust-building, value alignment.

SECTION 11 — RAG Metadata & Chunking Structuring

- 1–3K token-friendly blocks.
- Explicit headings.
- No images; machine-optimal formatting.

Citations (Short Form)

[1] SHRM Talent Acquisition 2025

[2] Gallup Workforce Trends 2024

[3] BLS Occupational Outlook 2025

[4] McKinsey Future of Work 2025

Long-Form Citations

(Appended.)